- Meet new customers generating volume mail
- Promote your business to this high spending audience
- Prospect for new business amongst highly targeted buyers

The Mail & Express Delivery Show is the ultimate UK event for mail and express suppliers and their customers. This year, squeezed into an intensive one day format, we're expecting the show to be better than ever before. Already customers spending over £1 billion annually are registered for the show, ranging from SME e-tailers to large financial institutions.

To allow you to promote your services to this audience, we have launched Mailing in 2009. The concept is simple – a turn-key package to allow Mailing Houses & Mail Consultants & Advisers to prospect for new business amongst this lucrative client base.

Mailing Central will be in the exhibition area at the show and due to space limitations is only open to the first 10 companies to respond.
